AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE

History and Purpose

AGNES SCOTT is a privately controlled college of liberal arts for women offering courses leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree. The College is located on a seventy-five acre campus at Decatur, Georgia, in the metropolitan Atlanta area. Its student body averages six hundred and forty and comes from more than half of the states and several foreign countries. Permanent assets amount to more than $15,000,000, of which $9,000,000 is in endowment.

The College was founded in 1889 as Decatur Female Seminary, renamed Agnes Scott Institute in 1890 in honor of the mother of the founder, Colonel George W. Scott, and chartered as Agnes Scott College in 1906. Its three presidents have been Frank Henry Gaines (1889-1923); James Ross McCain (1923-1951); and Wallace McPherson Alston (1951- ).

Agnes Scott was founded by Presbyterians and has always maintained a close relationship to that church. The College is not controlled or supported by the church, however, and special care is taken not to interfere in any way with the religious views or church preferences of students.

A commitment to the liberal arts program, insistence upon quality in education, and emphasis on the development of Christian character are foundation principles of the College. Strengthening these purposes are small classes, close faculty-student relationships, continuity of leadership, and a varied program of student activities. On completion of the Bachelor of Arts degree, students interested in careers enter immediately — or after further study — a variety of fields which include teaching, religious education, business, medicine, research, government, and social service. Fifteen to twenty per cent of each class takes advanced work on the graduate or professional level.

Educational Recognition

In 1907 Agnes Scott was admitted to membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. In 1920 the College was placed on the approved list of the Association of American Universities and in 1926 it was granted a charter by the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa. It was a charter member of the American Association of University Women and of the Southern University Conference.

University Center

Participation in the University Center, a group of eight institutions of higher learning in the Atlanta area, provides social and educational resources beyond the limits of the college campus. In the group are Emory University, Georgia Institute of Technology, Georgia State College, the University of Georgia at Athens, Columbia Theological Seminary, Atlanta Art Association, Oglethorpe University, and Agnes Scott College. Chief features of this cooperative program are reciprocity in library services, exchange of instructors, provision for visiting scholars, and the avoidance of duplication and overlapping in certain areas of instruction.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS

AGNES SCOTT has a resident student capacity of approximately five hundred and eighty-five. Total enrollment, including resident and non-resident students, averages six hundred and forty. Applicants whose homes are not in the local community must apply for admission as resident (boarding) students. Exception may be made if they can live with close relatives.

Correspondence regarding admission should be addressed to the Director of Admissions.

Admission to the Freshman Class

There are two plans of admission: (1) the Regular Plan and (2) the Early Decision Plan, open to applicants who are ready by October of the senior year in high school to certify that Agnes Scott is their single choice of college and who have followed instructions outlined in Item 4 of this section.

In determining admission, the Committee on Admissions considers the candidate's academic preparation, general ability and interests, character, personality, and health. Criteria for judging admission qualifications include the high school record (choice of subjects and achievement in them), rank in class, College Entrance Examination Board test results, principal's recommendation, health report, and additional personal data which the College secures.

1. Academic Preparation. Courses taken in high school should be relevant to courses offered in college in order to provide continuity in the total program of study. Skill in English composition, ability to read with comprehension, some competence in at least one foreign language, and some understanding of scientific principles and methods are important in preparation for the program here; preference will be given to applicants who present evidence of this preparation.

Candidates for admission are expected to complete a four-year high school program and to take a minimum of four academic subjects during each of the four years. The following subjects are strongly recommended or required:

English composition, grammar, and literature; four years required.

College preparatory mathematics, including plane geometry; three years recommended.

Foreign language: three or four years of one language (preferably Latin), or two years in each of two different languages recommended. A minimum of two years of one language required. No entrance credit given for one year of a language.

Science: one or more laboratory sciences recommended.

History: two years (preferably European and United States history) recommended.

Elective credits may be chosen from the foregoing subjects. Credits may also be presented in art history and appreciation; Bible; and music theory, history, and appreciation. No entrance credit is given for commercial subjects, physical education, and extra-curricular activities.

Prospective applicants are advised to send during the junior year, or earlier, an informal statement of courses taken and grades made. A form for the purpose may be obtained from the admissions office.

2. Filing of Application (Regular Plan). The application for admission may be secured on or after September 1 of the candidate's senior year in high school and may be filed on or after October 15. It should be filed before February 1. A statement regarding admission and scholarship procedure is mailed with each application and should be studied carefully by the applicant.

On receipt of the application, the College will forward to the candidate a certificate form for the high school record, which is to be sent directly by the school to the admissions office. If the transcript is filed during the first semester, the College will send to the candidate a form on which her first semester grades may be recorded. At the end of the school year, the College will forward directly to the school a form on which the official record for the entire senior year may be recorded.

3. Scholastic Aptitude and Achievement Tests. Agnes Scott College requires the Scholastic Aptitude Test and a total of at least three Achievement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. No special preparation is required; scores made are only one of several items considered in measuring the candidate's ability and academic preparation. All applicants (except those admitted on the Early Decision Plan) must take the Aptitude Test in December or January (preferably December). The Achievement Tests may be divided between May of the junior year and December or January of the senior year, with the January series preferred. In unusual circumstances, the March series in the senior year will be accepted. Achievement Tests taken in December or January should be in continuing subjects such as English, foreign language, and mathematics. Because some senior year programs do not include three continuing subjects, it may be necessary for the candidate to offer one or two junior year Achievement Tests in terminal or one-year subjects.

High school juniors are advised to take the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test in March or May and Achievement Tests in May. Those interested in Early Decision should read instructions in Item 4 of this section.

The candidate should write to the College Entrance Examination Board for a Bulletin of Information, which contains an application form and information about tests. The address of the Board is Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey, or (for candidates who live in western states) Box 27896, Los Angeles 27, California. The application and fee should be mailed to the Board several weeks in advance of the testing date.

The Board has set the following examination dates for the remainder of the academic year 1961-1962: March 3 and May 19 (primarily for juniors). Dates for the 1962-1963 series are December 1, January 12, March 2, and May 18.

4. Filing of Application (Early Decision Plan). Candidates who have decided that Agnes Scott is their single choice of college and who will certify that they are not applying to any other college until informed of the action of the Agnes Scott Admissions Committee may apply for admission on the Early Decision Plan. They must have taken the Scholastic Aptitude and three Achievement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board in March or May of the junior year. Achievement Tests are to be taken in English and in two other subjects being studied during the eleventh grade. They should not be taken in first-year foreign language.

The special application for Early Decision is to be secured from the admissions office on or after September 1 of the senior year; application is to be filed by October 15 (or October 1, if scholarship assistance is requested). Candidates will be notified in early December of the action of the Committee.

Candidates accepted on the Early Decision Plan agree, if they wish a place held in the freshman class, to make a non-refundable payment; this payment represents a portion of the total expenses for the freshman year and, in the case of boarding students, takes the place of the room-retaining fee due in June.

The Early Decision Plan is designed to assure unusually well-qualified applicants of admission to their first-choice college. Only those with excellent school records and good junior year College Board test results should apply; they should first secure advice from their school principal or counselor. Those who do not qualify on this Plan, or who do not have a single choice college by October 15, are under no handicap when their applications are considered later in the year, on the Regular Plan.

5. Acceptance of Application. Candidates for admission on the Regular Plan are mailed acceptance letters in mid-April. Acceptance of an application (Regular or Early Decision Plan) assumes the satisfactory completion of courses in progress and a satisfactory medical report.

6. Medical Report. Each student is required to submit a certificate of examination by her family physician; a certificate of successful vaccination against smallpox within six years; certificates of immunization against typhoid, polio, and tetanus; a report on a recent chest X-ray; and a complete medical history report. Forms for this report are mailed in May; the report must be completed and returned to the College Physician by August 1.

7. Advanced Placement. Students who have taken college level courses in high school and who wish to be admitted to more advanced courses than those offered in the regular freshman program are advised to take the Advanced Placement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board in May.

8. Assignment of Rooms and Roommates. Rooms and roommates are assigned by the Dean of Students and her staff. Information about assignments is not available until the student arrives in September. Special requests regarding rooms or roommates may be filed with the admissions office for referral to the Dean of Students; such requests will be honored if possible. Date of application is one of the considerations in assigning rooms.

Admission of Transfer Students

A limited number of transfer students are admitted to the sophomore and junior classes. Each applicant must fulfill the requirements for admission to the freshman class, using transferred credits if necessary. She must present transcripts of her high school and college records, a copy of the college catalogue with the courses taken indicated, a statement of honorable dismissal, and the results of the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board. The College advises only those students to apply who have made good records and who have followed a course of study corresponding to the Agnes Scott program. All credits are tentative and dependent on satisfactory work at Agnes Scott.

Candidates for the degree must complete the work of the junior and senior years in this college.

Appointments at the College

Visitors are welcome. The admissions office is open (except during holiday periods) on Monday through Friday from nine to twelve and two to four and on Saturdays until noon. An appointment should be made in advance in order that the student may confer with a member of the admissions staff and have the opportunity of seeing the campus with a guide. If an appointment cannot be made at the College, it is possible that an interview can be arranged in or near the applicant's home or school.

THE CURRICULUM

AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE offers a program of study leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree. A plan of distribution and concentration is followed, permitting the exploration of several areas in the first two years and specialization in a major field in the last two years.

Three quarters make up the college year. Credit for courses taken is given in terms of quarter hours. A course scheduled for three hours a week for one quarter will give a credit of three quarter hours; a course scheduled for three hours a week for the entire college year will give a credit of nine quarter hours.

Candidates for the degree must present one hundred eighty quarter hours of academic credit. They must earn at Agnes Scott a number of quality points equal to the number of credit hours taken in residence and presented for the degree. A grade of C or above must be made in not less than forty-eight quarter hours in the junior and senior years, and in not less than twenty-one hours in the senior year. The work of the junior and senior years must be completed in this college.

Required Courses

Certain courses are required, as listed below, and others are elective. The program of work for each student is approved by the appropriate Committee on Courses and may not be changed without the permission of the Committee.

A. Specific requirements:

English 101	9 quarter hours
Bible 101 or 201	9 quarter hours
Physical Education, 3 periods a week during the first 6 quarters of residence

B. Group requirements, with options:

- Group 1.* a. Foreign Language 9 or 18 quarter hours
 Latin, Greek, French, German, Spanish. A language based on two or more high school credits may be continued for a minimum of one year (9 hours), or a new language may be taken for a minimum of two years (18 hours). Students admitted with only two credits in one foreign language are required to take a minimum of two years (18 hours) in one language in college.
- b. Literature 9 quarter hours
 Choice of a literature course in English (English 211) or a literature course in a foreign language. If a literature course in foreign language is used to satisfy this requirement, it must be a course beyond the intermediate level and it cannot be in the language used to satisfy requirement a in this group.
- Group 2.* Science and Mathematics 21 quarter hours
 Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Astronomy, Mathematics. The equivalent of a year course must be completed in each of two departments. One course (12 hours) must be in a laboratory science.
- Group 3.* a. Choice of History 101 or 215, Classics 150, Philosophy 201 9 quarter hours
 b. Choice of Economics 201 or 301 and 302, Political Science 201-202 (unless History is offered under a), Psychology 201, Sociology 203-205 9 quarter hours

The freshman program of study is approved by the Committee on Courses for Freshmen and usually includes five academic subjects and physical education. The following courses must be elected, with the options indicated above: English 101; a foreign language (continuation and/or a new language); a science and/or mathematics. Since two courses in Group 3 are required for the degree, it is usually advisable to take one in the freshman year; in this field, History 101 and Classics 150 are open to first-year students. Courses in art, Bible, music, and speech are also available.

The specific and group requirements for the degree must be completed by the end of the sophomore year with such exceptions as the Committee on Courses for Upper Classmen permits.

Major and Related Hours

The major and related hours are planned by each student in the spring quarter of the sophomore year and approved by the department concerned.

The major department shall control a minimum of fifty-one quarter hours and a maximum of sixty. The hours shall be distributed as follows: thirty-six to fifty-one quarter hours in one subject, including the basic course, and nine to twenty-four quarter hours in closely related fields, with a minimum of nine in one department. An exception may be made in the departments of Art, Classics, Music, History and Political Science, and Economics and Sociology, where the major may consist of fifty-one to sixty hours without related work in another department. Exception may also be made in the department of Chemistry for students who wish to meet the requirements of the American Chemical Society.

The limitation upon the number of hours in the major subject does not apply in the case of courses which may not be counted in the major (elementary modern foreign language, for example). However, no more than sixty-three hours may be taken in the major department unless the excess hours represent work beyond the one hundred eighty hours required for the degree.

The independent study program is not included in any of the above limitations.

Unless specifically excused by the major department and the Committee on Courses for Upper Classmen, the student must continue her major subject throughout the junior and senior years and must take at least twenty-seven hours in the major subject during these years, with a minimum of eighteen hours in 300 and 400 level courses. A minimum of eighteen of the twenty-seven hours must be completed with a grade of C or above.

Major work is offered in the following subjects: Art, Bible, Biology, Chemistry, Classics, Economics, English, French, German, Greek, History, Latin, Mathematics, Music, Philosophy, Physics, Political Science and History, Psychology, Sociology, and Spanish. Through an agreement with Emory University, major work is offered in Business Economics.

An interdepartmental major is offered in Science. This major is primarily for premedical students and for students planning to teach science in secondary school. The major for students interested in medicine or medical technology should consist of: Biology 101, 304, 305 or 310, 306; Chemistry 102 or 101-201, 203, 301, 304; Physics 101. For those who plan to teach science the major shall consist of approximately the same total number of hours, but courses may be varied with the approval of the department of primary interest.

The Junior Year Abroad

Qualified students may substitute for the work of the junior year at Agnes Scott a year of study abroad under the direction of a group approved by the College. To be eligible for the junior year abroad, a student must have high standing in the work of the first two years and must be recommended by her major department and by the language department involved. Any student who may wish to apply for the year abroad should file written request in the office of the Dean of the Faculty before February 1 of her sophomore year.

Program of Independent Study

Through a program of independent study, superior students are given the opportunity to explore for themselves some field of intellectual or artistic interest in their major field and to produce independently some piece of work connected with it. The program is open to seniors who qualify on the basis of a B average by the end of the winter or spring quarter of the junior year. Students who are eligible for the program are so notified by the Dean of the Faculty.

Summer Courses

Students may attend accredited senior college summer schools. Courses and credits must be approved by the Dean of the Faculty before the close of the regular college session. A student who attends summer sessions in order to accelerate her academic program must have her entire plan of acceleration approved by the Dean of the Faculty.

The number of hours a student may take in one summer session will depend upon the quality of her work at Agnes Scott, upon the nature of the courses chosen, and upon the length of the summer session. Under no circumstances will more than fifteen quarter hours be approved for a single summer session. Total summer session credits counted toward the degree may not exceed thirty quarter hours. In order to receive credit, the student must make a grade higher than the passing grade (for example, C when the passing grade is D).

Summer session work may not be used to fulfill quality point requirements for classification or for the degree.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE CURRICULUM

STUDENTS are expected to make themselves thoroughly familiar with the plan of the curriculum and to arrange their courses to conform with its requirements. During the spring quarter of each year, all students in residence file with the Registrar cards indicating tentative course selection for the next session. These course cards are approved or revised by the Committee on Courses for Upper Classmen. Freshmen make a tentative selection of courses during the summer preceding enrollment.

Limitation of Hours and Courses

The maximum number of credit hours a week for freshmen is sixteen and the minimum fourteen.

The maximum number of credit hours a week for sophomores, juniors, and seniors is eighteen and the minimum fourteen. Permission to carry eighteen hours is restricted to students who have made a B average for the preceding quarter; such permission is granted by the Committee on Courses for Upper Classmen. Students admitted to the teacher education program may carry eighteen hours during the quarter of apprentice teaching.

Not more than two courses, or ten quarter hours, may be taken under any one instructor in any given quarter.

Not more than twenty-five hours may be taken in one subject in any one session, and not more than sixty-three hours in one department may be presented for the degree. (See statement under Major and Related Hours.) If more than sixty-three hours are elected in one department, they must be in excess of the one hundred eighty required for the degree.

Not more than thirty-six hours in the junior and senior years may be in courses below the 300 level; hours in excess of thirty-six in 100 and 200 level courses must be in excess of ninety total hours earned in the junior and senior years.

Not more than nine hours in the senior year may be in 100 level courses except by permission of the major professor, the Dean of the Faculty, and the Committee on Courses.

Students may audit courses only with written permission from the Dean of the Faculty. The student's previous academic record and the number of credit hours being carried are factors considered.

Course Changes

A course of study which has been approved cannot be changed without the permission of the appropriate course committee. No new course may be elected after the first ten days of a quarter. No course may be dropped after the first Tuesday in November for the fall quarter, the first Tuesday in February for the winter quarter, or the first Tuesday in May for the spring quarter; exception may be made only with the permission of the appropriate course committee and the Dean of the Faculty.

Class Attendance

Attendance at all academic appointments is required of the following: all freshmen during the fall quarter; freshmen during the winter and spring quarters who in the academic work of the preceding quarter have made less than a C (1.00) average or a grade of E or F; students who have because of unsatisfactory grades been placed on the ineligible list; students on academic probation. It is expected that other students will keep all academic appointments and will not be absent without just cause. The responsibility for any work missed because of absence rests entirely upon the student.

Attendance at tests announced a week in advance is mandatory.

Attendance at classes is required the day before and the day after a holiday.

Each student is required to register before attending her first class in the winter quarter. A student who returns from Christmas vacation in time to attend her first class, but who fails to register before doing so, is subject to an automatic penalty of a $5.00 late registration fee. A student returning late from Christmas vacation is subject to the penalty of a $5.00 late registration fee unless her absence is excused by the Committee on Absences.

Examinations

General examinations are held at the end of each quarter. Attendance is required. A student absent from examination because of illness may take the examination in question at the regular time scheduled for re-examinations (see below). A student absent without excuse from the Dean of Students or the physician is automatically excluded from college.

Re-examinations are permitted in the case of conditional failure. These examinations are given in the first week of the quarter following failure. Those failing in a re-examination are required to repeat the course or forfeit the credit.

A "special" examination is given only with the permission of the Dean of Students in response to a written request from the student. If permission is granted, the student must present the Dean of Students' receipt for $5.00 before the instructor is authorized to give the examination.

Grading System

Grades indicating the student's standing in any course are officially recorded as follows: A, excellent attainment; B, good attainment; C, average attainment; D, passable attainment; E, failure with privilege of re-examination; F, failure without privilege of re-examination.

Grades are evaluated by a quality point system: A = 3 quality points per quarter hour, B = 2, C = 1, D = 0. For a statement of the grade and quality point requirements for class standing and for graduation, see sections on Classification of Students and Requirements for the Degree.

Discipline and Exclusion

The work of each student is reviewed at the end of every quarter. Those students whose work is not satisfactory are placed on an ineligible list. They lose the privilege of voluntary class attendance, and their activities and social engagements are subject to review by the Dean of Students.

A student whose work is very unsatisfactory at the end of any quarter may be asked to withdraw from the college or may be placed on academic probation for the remainder of the year. If by the end of the session a student has failed to earn at least thirty quarter hours of degree credit in academic work she is automatically excluded.

A student who fails for two successive years to meet the requirements for advancement to the next higher class is automatically excluded.

A student whose continuance in college may involve danger to her own health or to that of others may be asked to withdraw.

Each student upon entrance formally adopts the Honor System by signing a pledge to uphold the standards and regulations of the College. These standards and regulations are printed in The Student Handbook. A student whose conduct indicates that she is not in sympathy with the ideals and standards of the College or who is not mature enough for its program may be asked to withdraw. In such cases the judgment of the administrative officers is sufficient, and it is not necessary that specific charges be made.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

COURSES numbered 101 to 199 are open primarily to freshmen and sophomores; Courses 201 to 299 to sophomores and juniors; Courses 301 to 399 to juniors and seniors; and Courses 401 to 499 to seniors only. Courses open to lower classes are also open to upper classes unless stated to the contrary.

Fall quarter courses are designated by a, winter quarter courses by b, spring quarter courses by c. Numbers with hyphenated letters indicate courses extending through two quarters. Numbers without letters indicate courses extending throughout the year. No credit is given for a course until the entire course is completed.

Program of Independent Study

The course number 490 is used in each department for the program of independent study. The program may be undertaken for three, four, or five hours per quarter, with a maximum total credit of ten quarter hours, and must be continued for more than one quarter except in unusual cases and with the permission of the Dean of the Faculty. Students who are eligible for the program are so notified by the Dean of the Faculty.

Emory University Courses

Under a cooperative agreement, upperclassmen may take courses at Emory University. Permission for such courses must be secured from the Chairman of the Course Committee and is usually limited to courses not offered at Agnes Scott. Students interested in the pre-professional courses in Librarianship should consult the Dean of the Faculty.

The Department of Education does not offer a major. Teacher education at Agnes Scott is a college-wide enterprise, and the Department of Education exists only as one of many departments that contribute to the future teacher's curriculum. In order to provide the strongest faculty possible and to enrich course offerings, Agnes Scott College and Emory University cooperate in sponsoring the Agnes Scott-Emory Teacher Education Program. Programs in the various teaching fields have been planned by a Committee on Teacher Education representing both institutions.

Students who plan to teach should begin to plan programs early—in no case later than the end of the sophomore year. It is recommended that they take Psychology 201 in the sophomore year. Mrs. Stack will advise students in regard to requirements and assist in planning for necessary courses.

Students planning to teach at the secondary level may be certified in one of the following five fields: English, foreign language, mathematics, science, social studies. Their course of study will include an approved major program in an appropriate subject field and the following courses in Education: 302, 303, 401S, 402, and 404. (Education 301 may be substituted for Education 302 with permission of the department.)

Students planning to teach at the elementary-school level must meet the following requirements: (1) Completion of any major offered by the College; (2) Completion of Education 301, 303, 304, 401E, 402, and 404; (3) Completion of courses designated as special fields for the elementary teacher. The following requirements may be fulfilled as part of the specific or group requirements for the degree or as a part of the major. Otherwise, they must be fulfilled by additional work. The special fields for the elementary teacher include a minimum of three courses from the arts: Art 229 (Art 199a, b, or c may be substituted for Art 229); Music 340; Recreational Leadership. A minimum of two courses is required in science and mathematics: one course in a laboratory science (Biology 101 is recommended); one course in mathematics (Mathematics 101 or 102 is recommended). A minimum of two courses in the social sciences is required: one course in history (History 215 is recommended); an additional course in political science, economics, or sociology. Librarianship 315, Books and Related Materials for Children (at Emory), is strongly recommended. Political Science 308, Political Geography, or Geology 110, Introductory Physical Geology (at Emory), is recommended.

Upon successful completion of a planned program at graduation, students fill out an application blank and are approved automatically for certification to teach in Georgia. Out-of-state students should present certification requirements for their respective states at the time of projecting programs in order that proper guidance may be given.

BUILDINGS, GROUNDS, AND EQUIPMENT

THE COLLEGE has a campus of seventy-five acres. The main buildings are brick and stone and those of more recent construction are modern Gothic in design. Dormitories are completely equipped with sprinkler systems and fire escapes.

BUTTRICK HALL, the classroom-administration building, was erected in 1930 through the support of the General Education Board of New York and is named in honor of Dr. Wallace Buttrick, former president of the Board. It contains administrative and faculty offices, classrooms, the art studios and gallery, day student lounge, and the college post office, bookstore, and bank.

THE MCCAIN LIBRARY, erected in 1936, was named in honor of President Emeritus James Ross McCain by action of the Board of Trustees June 1, 1951.

The Agnes Scott collection numbers about 81,000 volumes, and 400 periodicals are received currently. The two main reading rooms seat 250 students, and an additional 100 can be accommodated in the carrels, the seminar rooms, and the outdoor reading terrace. There are six floors of open stacks.

Supplementing the bibliographical resources of the Agnes Scott library are Union Catalogues at Emory University and the University of Georgia of the holdings of thirty libraries in the Atlanta-Athens area. About one million and a half volumes are represented. Reciprocity in the libraries of this area, particularly between Agnes Scott and Emory, is a feature of the University Center program.

PRESSER HALL, completed in 1940, bears the name of Theodore Presser, Philadelphia music publisher whose Foundation contributed toward its erection. The building contains Gaines Chapel, Maclean Auditorium, and facilities for the teaching of music, including soundproof studios and practice rooms.

THE FRANCES WINSHIP WALTERS INFIRMARY, completed in 1949, has capacity for thirty patients. The building is named in honor of the donor, an alumna and trustee of the College.

THE LETITIA PATE EVANS DINING HALL, completed in 1950, is named in honor of its principal donor, Mrs. Letitia Pate Evans of Hot Springs, Virginia. The building has four separate dining rooms, with the main hall large enough to accommodate the entire student body.

THE JOHN BULOW CAMPBELL SCIENCE HALL, completed in 1951, is named in honor of a former trustee of the College. The building contains a total of seventy-seven rooms, including twenty laboratories, five lecture rooms, a large assembly room, a library, a museum, and departmental offices.

THE BRADLEY OBSERVATORY, erected in 1949, houses the 30-inch Beck Telescope, a planetarium, lecture room, photographic dark room, optical shop for making telescopes, laboratory space, and a library.

ALL DORMITORIES are located on the campus. Agnes Scott Hall, Rebekah Scott, Inman, Hopkins, and Walters Hall are the main dormitories. Additional units are Sturgis, Ansley, Gaines, Alexander, Harn-Omwake, East Lawn, Cunningham, and Hardeman houses, also located on campus.

BUCHER SCOTT GYMNASIUM-AUDITORIUM is the center of athletic activities. Basketball and badminton courts, an auditorium, swimming pool, and offices of the physical education directors are located here. Adjacent to the gymnasium are a playing field for hockey, archery, and softball; four all-weather Laykold tennis courts; and an amphitheatre.

Other buildings on the campus include the President's

Home, the Murphey Candler Student Activities Building, the Rogers Cabin, and the Anna Young Alumnae House.

Rooms

All rooms are at the same rate, whether double or single. Each room is furnished with single beds, mattresses and pillows, dressers, chairs, study table, student lamp, bookcase, and waste basket. Students will supply their own bed linen, blankets, curtains, rugs, and towels. Radios are permitted.

COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES

Extra-Curricular Program

THE STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS and publications occupy an important place in the life of the college community. They are supported in part by a comprehensive fee charged each student. This appropriation is distributed among the following: Student Government Association, Athletic Association, the Student Handbook, Mortar Board, Pi Alpha Phi, Lecture Committee, May Day Committee and Dance Group, Social Council, National Student Association, International Relations Club, the literary magazine, the annual, and the weekly newspaper.

The Student Government Association is based upon a charter granted by the faculty and has for its purpose the ordering and control of campus life. Its membership includes all students.

Agnes Scott Christian Association is organized to develop the spiritual life of the students and to cooperate with other student associations in general Christian work. Most of the student body are members.

Athletic Association cooperates with the department of physical education in the management of sports and sponsors inter-class games, tournaments, swimming meets, and general recreational activities. Individual interests and skills are developed through various sports clubs.

Social Council coordinates the social activities of the campus, including in its program a formal reception for new students, dances, movies, and varied Saturday night entertainment during the session.

Lecture Committee, an organization of students and faculty, brings lecturers to the college community.

Publications include the Aurora, a quarterly literary magazine; the Silhouette, the student yearbook; the Agnes Scott News, the campus weekly; and The Student Hand- book, a manual of information issued annually by the student associations.

Clubs directed by students or by students and faculty together provide opportunity for development of special interests and talents. Membership in most of these is open by try-out. They include language clubs, Pi Alpha Phi debating society, Blackfriars dramatic club, the Dance Group, Dolphin Club, Glee Club, Guild Student Group (chartered by the American Guild of Organists and sponsored by the Atlanta chapter), International Relations Club, Psychology Club, and several creative writing groups. National honor societies include Mortar Board (service and leadership); Eta Sigma Phi (classics); Sigma Alpha Iota (music); and Chi Beta Phi (science).

Art and Music

One of Agnes Scott's major responsibilities in the University Center is the development of the Fine Arts. This the College seeks to do through its program of instruction and through general contributions to the cultural life of the community. Exhibitions of paintings, prints, crafts, and other objects of art are held periodically in the College Art Gallery; and throughout the year concerts are presented by the faculty of the music department. All of these events are open to the public without charge.

Religious Life

Every effort is made to promote the students' religious life. They are asked to select the church they desire to make their church home and are encouraged to attend this church regularly.

Vesper services are conducted by members of the faculty three evenings a week. Chapel programs are held each morning, Tuesday through Saturday. The Wednesday chapel is a College Convocation which all members of the college community are expected to attend. Although attendance at vespers and other chapel services is voluntary, students are urged to be present regularly.

Each year a distinguished leader is brought to the campus for Religious Emphasis Week.

Health Service

The student health service is under the direction of the college physician and her staff.

The students' health needs are met as far as possible by the medical department. The comprehensive fee charged all students includes ordinary infirmary and office treatment for resident students, and emergency treatment for non-resident students. If there is need for such special medication as antibiotics, hypodermic injections, vitamins, prescriptions, X-rays, special diet, etc., the expense is met by the individual. Resident students should consult the college physician before seeking medical or dental care in Atlanta.

The College recommends a twelve-month Student Accident and Sickness Insurance Plan in order to help meet possible medical expenses not provided by the college Health Service. Information about the plan is sent to parents prior to the opening of each session.

The College reserves the right, if the parents or guardians cannot be reached, to make decisions concerning emergency health problems. The parent is expected to sign the necessary forms to give the College this right.

Counseling

While each student is encouraged to be increasingly self-reliant in college and community life, the College realizes the value of advisory assistance in developing individual interests and ability. Academic counseling is done by the Dean of the Faculty, the major professors, and designated members of the faculty.

General counseling of students, particularly in relation to non-academic matters and social and extra-curricular activities, is centered in the office of the Dean of Students.

Placement Service

The College operates a placement service through the office of the Dean of the Faculty. Confidential reference files are maintained for all graduates and are sent to prospective employers on request. There is no charge for the service.

A vocational information service is conducted by the Assistant Dean of Students.

On entrance in September . . . . . 925.00

January 1 . . . . . 700.00

May 1 (graduation fee; seniors only) . . . . . 10.00

Payment of Fees

The registration fee charged boarding students and all new day students is, as indicated above, applied toward the total expenses of those who enroll. Freshman and transfer applicants who withdraw applications before action is taken, or who withdraw after being notified of acceptance, will forfeit $15.00 of the fee if the withdrawal takes place on or before May 1 (or February 1 in the case of Early Decision candidates). Returning students will forfeit $15.00 of the fee if the withdrawal takes place on or before May 15. After these dates, none of the fee will be refundable. The entire registration fee will be refunded to freshman and transfer applicants whom the College finds it impossible to admit.

The schedule of payments due before September does not apply to candidates admitted on the Early Decision Plan.

A patron who finds it necessary to request deferred payment of his account is asked to make special arrangements with the Treasurer in advance. In all such cases notes are to be signed which bear interest at six per cent from date payment was due. Notes cannot be accepted for the payment for resident students due June 15.

Music Fees

Piano, violin, voice tuition (including practice) . . . . .	$165.00
Organ tuition (including practice) . . . . .	180.00

The above fees cover two thirty-minute lessons weekly and are payable in full in September, or half in September and half on January 1. The charge for one thirty-minute lesson weekly is half of the regular fee. Music fees are due in advance of the first lesson, after course committee approval has been secured.

Terms

No student will be admitted for less than a full quarter.

No refunds of any nature will be made because of the absence, illness, dismissal, or withdrawal of a student. No adjustment in fees will be made when a student changes from boarding to day student status, or when she attends only one or two quarters of the session, unless arrangements are made with the President prior to the close of the preceding session. These provisions are necessary because all financial arrangements for instruction and maintenance must be made well in advance of the beginning of each college year. With a limited student body, the College suffers a financial loss whenever a student withdraws, no matter how valid the reason.

A student may not attend classes or take examinations until accounts have been satisfactorily adjusted with the Treasurer.

All financial obligations to the College must be met before a student can be awarded a diploma, or before a transcript of record can be issued to another institution. There is no charge for the first transcript, but a charge of $1.00 is made for each additional copy.

The College does not provide room and board for resident students during the Christmas vacation. The dining hall and dormitories are closed at this time.

In cases of prolonged illness or contagious diseases, students must provide a nurse at their expense and must pay for medicines and for consultations.

The College exercises every precaution to protect property of students, but will not be responsible for any losses that may occur.

It is understood that upon the entrance of a student her parent or guardian accepts as final and binding the terms and regulations outlined in the catalogue.

Personal Accounts

Money may be deposited in the college bank to the account of a student and is payable on her checks. No account other than the cancelled checks is kept.

Books and supplies may be purchased for cash in the bookstore. The College suggests that $75.00 be brought for this purpose.

SCHOLARSHIP AND SPECIAL FUNDS

Scholarship Aid Program

THE INCOME from a limited number of endowed funds is available for students who need financial assistance in order to attend Agnes Scott. All of the awards except special ones made at Commencement are subject to renewal each year, in whole or in part, provided the need continues to exist and the student's academic progress is satisfactory.

Agnes Scott participates in the College Scholarship Service of the College Entrance Examination Board. This Service is a cooperative undertaking among colleges to foster the distribution of financial aid on the basis of actual need; a uniform scholarship application form (the Parents' Confidential Statement of the College Scholarship Service) is required, and uniform methods of computing need are employed. In line with the policy of colleges subscribing to the Service, the amount of each stipend is determined in relation to financial need, and within the limits of available funds.

An entering student who needs assistance is eligible for two types of scholarship aid: a grant-in-aid requiring no duties, or a combination of grant-in-aid and service scholarship requiring approximately three and one half hours of work per week. Instructions regarding procedure for filing scholarship application should be secured from the admissions office before January 15 (scholarship applicants on the Early Decision Plan must secure instructions before October 1).

Students already in residence receive instructions during the session regarding scholarship application or renewal. All scholarship renewals are in the form of service scholarships or, in unusual circumstances, a combination of service scholarship and grant-in-aid. In no case does a service scholarship for an upperclassman require work in excess of ten hours per week. Duties are assigned by the Supervisor of Service Scholarships (a member of the Dean of Students' staff) and may involve acting as hostesses, operating the switchboard, or helping in the library, offices, physical education department, or laboratories.

Any recipient of an Agnes Scott scholarship who has received financial assistance from another source is expected to notify the College. The Agnes Scott scholarship may then be subject to review and some adjustment made. It is also subject to adjustment if the recipient is awarded an honor scholarship at Commencement (see section on Commencement Awards).

If an applicant's need exceeds the resources available at Agnes Scott, the College is often able to assist her in securing aid from one of several educational loan foundations established for the purpose.

ORGANIZED in 1895, the Alumnae Association of Agnes Scott College has as its purpose the promotion of its members' interest in the College and in liberal education. Its work is done under the authority of an Executive Board composed of officers, committee chairmen, and the presidents of the four nearest alumnae clubs. Branches of the Association, in the form of Agnes Scott alumnae clubs, are active in thirty-six cities.

The Alumnae Association operates the Anna Young Alumnae House, publishes The Agnes Scott Alumnae Quarterly, conducts the Alumnae Fund, and maintains files of information on more than 9,500 individual alumnae. Volunteer committees, under the governance of the Executive Board, carry on services including house and grounds improvement, planning of special events and entertainments, presentation of an annual career conference for students, correspondence with class and club officers, and a continuing program to make alumnae an active force in American education.
