PRESENTING AGNES

SCOTT COLLEGE

... where we have found a time for mental development through study and experiment ... a time for spiritual growth through worship and meditation ...

. . . physical well-being and enlargement of personality through "time out" for sports and social activities . . .

FOREWORD

Time is a valued element in our life at Agnes Scott.

It is more than a regulator of scheduled routine; it is our "seed-field," in which are rooted the experiences capable of enriching life, both in time-present and in time-future.

The 1952 SILHOUETTE has attempted to "stop the clock," thus portraying these experiences as visualized in the past year.

... the time of our lives ...

DEDICATION

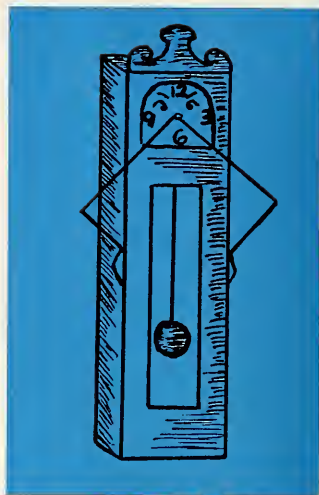

to Miss Nancy Pence Groseclose

for her vital faith in God and man, her enthusiastic support of all phases of campus life, and her high vision of service to Agnes Scott, we dedicate the 1952 SILHOUETTE.

F

... colorful dignity of academic processions ... conferences on third Buttrick ... Friday morning chapel services ... kindling minds ... patient guidance ...

Dr. Alston is congratulated by Mr. Winship.

INAUGURATION OF WALLACE M. ALSTON

A highlight of the year 1951-52 was the inauguration of Wallace McPherson Alston, third president of Agnes Scott College. On the morning of October 23, more than 250 official delegates in colorful academic costume, accompanied by a white-clad student escort, processed to Gaines Chapel for the inaugural service. Sarah Gibson Blanding, President of Vassar College, delivered the principal address, after which Dr. Alston was formally inducted into his office by George Winship, chairman of the Board of Trustees. Even the heavy rain failed to dampen the spirit of enthusiasm and goodwill shared by members of our own campus and our many visitors.

Faculty marshals lead their procession through Presser Hall immediately before the inaugural exercises. For the "after" view, see page 13.

Miss Blanding delivers her address.

WALLACE McPHERSON ALSTON
President

Agnes Scott has long been proud of her presidents. This year, as Dr. Alston assumes the office, we are especially conscious of all that he and his predecessors have meant to us. In so short a time, Dr. Alston has won his way into the confidences and into the hearts of all of us. He commands respect and admiration from each of his associates, and real love from those who have come to know him. To us he is a personification of many worthwhile and necessary qualities. We know how fine our president is, how capable in guiding our school, and how loyal to all we claim as a part of Agnes Scott.

SAMUEL GUERRY STUKES
Dean of the Faculty and Registrar

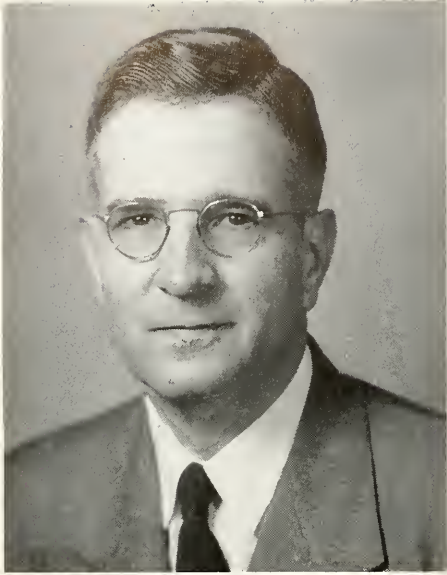

Because of his constant understanding of all our problems, his never-ending willingness to aid any one of us, and his bright sense of humor which always finds the sunniest spot on a gray day, Dr. Stukes has become an invaluable part of campus life and academic activity. He is never too busy to advise in decisions, never too preoccupied to give a cheery smile. He is truly a friend interested in all.

CARRIE SCANDRETT
Dean of Students

Miss Scandrett's fame has spread far, carried by those girls to whom she has been almost a mother. How she remembers all our names, faces, and biographies we will never know, but she never forgets to give a friendly greeting or remembrance. Her poise, graciousness, charm, and capabilities set an example for us students to follow.

One of the most popular departments on our Agnes Scott campus is the English department, with its many courses covering the literature of all ages. Through its capable members we are led to a deeper appreciation of all the hidden treasures of both prose and poetry. Although we may suffer while writing a research paper or analyzing poetry, we finally feel richly rewarded for our efforts and carry away a real understanding of and inspiration from the greatest works of all times.

HISTORY

The department of history offers the student an insight into the civilizations of the past in an effort to help her better understand the civilization of the present. The varied selection of available courses ranges from the history of ancient Greece to a survey of modern Russia. Not to be overlooked are interesting courses in the history of our own land and a survey of political processes.

LANGUAGES

The departments of classical and modern languages provide an opportunity for "visiting" far-away lands through the study of their languages and customs. Emphasis is placed upon conversational ability in French, German, and Spanish, and upon the development of a broad reading knowledge in Latin and Greek.

Language clubs, record classes, and language tables in the dining hall supplement classroom instruction in offering students a means of increasing their proficiency in and enjoyment of the languages.

Evidence of Agnes Scott's interest in the progress of present-day living is seen in the emphasis given to the science and mathematics departments, which offer excellent instruction in astronomy, biology, chemistry, mathematics, and physics. In these fields of knowledge the student finds a challenge to logical and orderly reasoning and acquires habits of exactness in study. The Bradley Observatory and the newly completed John Bulow Campbell Science Hall have greatly augmented instruction in the sciences.

MUSIC

The music department reaches an increasing number of students through its practical courses in organ, piano, violin, and voice, as well as through its instruction in theory and history. Throughout the year, special music programs presented by members of the department are enjoyed by the entire Atlanta community.

B I B L E

It is fitting that a Christian college such as Agnes Scott should have such a fine Bible department. Courses are offered in the teachings of the Old and New Testaments, as well as those dealing with the religious beliefs of the present day. Through these studies the student gains both a spiritual and an intellectual insight into the Bible.

S P E E C H

Everyone on campus has heard of Blackfriars, the dramatic club sponsored by our speech department; everyone has been thrilled by one of their fine performances. But this is only part of the department's work. Behind the stage productions lie those fundamental courses which teach the correct use of voices and bodies for most effective speech. All those who enroll in a speech class become conscious of the importance of reading and speaking correctly.

PHILOSOPHY — EDUCATION PSYCHOLOGY

To help students understand the human mind in its physical and its more intangible aspects and to show them how to mold young minds through the process of education are the aims of the departments of philosophy, education, and psychology. Students have found in psychology many practical applications in learning and in social and business contacts. The education courses lead to a teaching certificate. Philosophy, with its challenge to clear thinking, proves valuable in considering the ultimate questions of life.

Physical Education is very important in furthering Agnes Scott's ideal of physical well-being for each student. The development of physical fitness is accomplished through the attention of the medical department and through the rich program of athletics, which provides opportunities for the acquisition of individual skills and for team-work in class competition.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES

At the times when Buttrick is not alive with students going to and from classes, the administrative officers of the college are still busily pursuing their never-ending work. On the first floor where the faculty, students, and visitors can readily find them, are the offices of the registrar, the treasurer, and the business manager, whose varied services include the supervision of registration and classification of students, management of college finances, and keeping of records. College publicity and alumnae activities are handled through the Alumnae Office. The efficiency of our capable administrative staff is an asset to the entire campus.

THE DEAN'S OFFICE

Students feel that many phases of campus life are centered in the Office of the Dean of Students. Here they may send telegrams, order taxis, sign out for dates, or stop for a friendly chat. Staff members, who prove never too busy to offer encouragement and advice, are always eager to share both our problems and our good news.

THE LIBRARY

The pleasant calmness which exists in the library and the regular efficiency with which it is run make it an ideal spot for study or research. The credit for this atmosphere goes directly to our library staff, whose untiring efforts give us such a fine library. Without them there would be no attractive displays arranged in the main reading room and no one to help us with those problems that constantly appear.

We of the 1952 SILHOUETTE staffs hope that you will find your annual an enjoyable review of the year's activity in work and picture. We have worked hard writing copy, taking pictures, selling ads, and doing the various other routine jobs that are all a part of producing an annual. If we have been successful in "stopping the clock" on highlights of 1951-52, we shall feel that our efforts have been well worth the while.

THE AGNES SCOTT NEWS

The appearance of the Agnes Scott News publication each Wednesday afternoon is an event eagerly anticipated by faculty and students alike. Because it reflects public opinion, it has become an essential part of our college community.

The News endeavors to present campus, national, and world activities in a manner which will stimulate the thought of each student. "Did You Know" selections are clever new sports presentations; "Date Book" proves invaluable to us. Even several want ads appear occasionally!

We are proud that the News is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press. Our appreciation goes to the editorial staff with its "nose for the news" and the business staff with its "nose to the grind." Their combined efforts have made this honor possible.

The Aurora, published quarterly, is a literary magazine for student expression which provides an opportunity for the circulation among members of the college community of original poems, short stories, essays, reviews and literary criticism. It is the objective of the publication to stimulate creative literary expression and to awaken interest on the campus in the extra-curricular writing done by students. Artistic talent is also employed in the Aurora in the illustrations for various literary pieces and in the designing of a cover for the magazine.

Believing more than ever that Student Government is an integral part of life at Agnes Scott, Student Government Association began its year of activities on campus with an orientation program designed to provide valuable assistance to the new students. Under sponsorship of the organization, a formal reception for the entire college community climaxed the events of the opening week of school. Later in the quarter, the group presented a two-day emphasis of the Honor System, with helpful talks in chapel and discussions in the dorms and cottages.

Included in the year's program of Student Government activities were its aid in obtaining a television set for the recreation room in Rebekah Scott, a redecoration of the smoker, operation of the second-hand bookstore, sending of delegates to the N. S. A. Congress, and continuance of those early morning fire drills.

Student Government owes much to Jane's capable leadership and mature judgment.

"Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?"; Christian Association's theme this year illustrates well an awareness of all the issues that should concern college students. Because of this concern, C. A. has increased efforts in all its projects both on and off campus. The Council is in charge of off-campus activities, including Negro Mission, Scottish Rite Hospital, Methodist Orphans' Home, Y. W. C. A., Industrial Girls' Club, Girl Scouts, and Day Camp. On-campus activities are supervised by Cabinet with the help of many volunteers and draftees. This year cabinet members arranged a prayer room on campus which is open at all times.

Dr. Elton Trueblood, author, lecturer, and professor, was Religious Emphasis Week speaker. The many lectures, discussions, and informal conferences were well attended by students, faculty, and off-campus friends, who felt the magnetism of the speaker. Dr. Trueblood re-emphasized the theme, applying it to all situations of life.

MORTAR BOARD

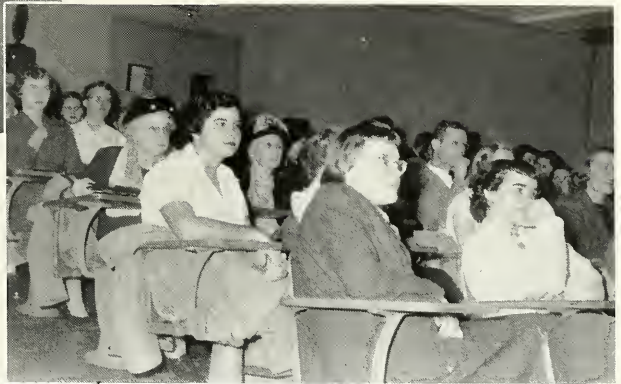

Mortar Board—how significant are these two words; how much they imply. Mortar Board is the honorary organization for outstanding senior leaders. The members are chosen for their scholarship, leadership, and service. Juniors who possess these qualities are elected to Mortar Board each spring. To maintain a high standard of scholarship, to encourage leadership, and to advance the true spirit of service are the aims of Mortar Board.

As "quiet molders of campus opinion," the HOASC chapter at Agnes Scott supported a service program designed to seek out and to meet specific needs of the campus. It presented a series of eight excellent movies for the college community throughout the year and sponsored marriage classes for seniors and engaged girls during winter quarter. On November 16-17 the organization was hostess to the Regional Mortar Board Convention, exchanging ideas with chapters from colleges in Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi.

Catherine posts a meeting notice.

ETA SIGMA PHI

Eta Sigma Phi is an undergraduate honorary classical fraternity. Its purpose is "to further the spirit of cooperation and good will among the members of classical departments and to stimulate interest in the study of the classics and to increase our knowledge of the art and literature of ancient Greece and Rome."

There are more than thirty active chapters of Eta Sigma Phi in colleges and universities throughout the nation. Active membership of individuals in a chapter is by invitation, and is normally conditioned upon superior work in Greek or Latin. The activities of the Alpha Delta Chapter have consisted of bi-monthly meetings, held at Miss Glick's house, where selected dialogues of Plato have been the topic for discussion; in awarding Latin medals to local high-school seniors for superior work in this subject; and in serving at a tea for the Southern Classical Association.

Members of Chi Beta Phi at Agnes Scott College proudly claim their membership in the Alpha Sigma Chapter, which has the distinction of being the first women's chapter of this national honorary scientific fraternity. New members are initiated into the society bi-annually, eligibility being based on active interest and excellency in the study of the natural sciences.

This year's program sought to create on the campus an awareness of and an interest in scientific advancement throughout the world. Chapter members served as ushers in the new John Bulow Campbell Science Hall on the afternoon of its formal dedication, sponsored outstanding lecturers in various fields of science, and acted as hostesses to the national convention of Chi Beta Phi held here in spring quarter.

PI ALPHA PHI

Potential debaters on the campus are trained and encouraged by Pi Alpha Phi. The members participate in club and inter-collegiate debates, which furnish a medium for discussion of current problems concerning school, national and international affairs. Such activity stimulates the development of logical thinking and nimbleness of tongue. Several members of Pi Alpha Phi represented Agnes Scott at a round-table discussion held at the University of Alabama last fall. In March, the club acted as host for the All-Southern Debate Tournament, competing with teams from various southern colleges.

COTILLION CLUB

The purpose of Cotillion Club is to promote social activities on campus. A highlight of fall quarter was the "Cinderella Ball" given by the club for members of the Freshman class. The annual elaborate Cotillion formal was a gala event of the spring. Informal teas and parties were sponsored throughout the year for the entire campus community. All students are eligible for Cotillion Club, membership being based on a system of try-outs.

Poise and charm characterize Sylvia Williams, Social Committee's able chairman.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Social Committee is a representative group which promotes the ideal of gracious living on the campus and which takes a large part in campus activities. One of their contributions this year is the recreation room in Rebekah. The committee also has charge of the bulletin boards in Main and of the kitchen in Murphey Candler. Their fashion show presented for the freshmen during orientation week was particularly enjoyable. The group meets every other week with their advisor, Mrs. McCracken, to discuss plans for the campus.

LECTURE ASSOCIATION

Each year Lecture Association brings to the campus outstanding speakers in various fields. Included in the series for this year were Robert Frost, beloved poet and lecturer, the London Repertory company's production of the "Tempest," and Professor Cecilia Payne-Gaposchkin, noted astronomer of Harvard University, who spoke on "Cosmic Evolution." The presentations of Lecture Association are enjoyed both by members of the Agnes Scott community and by off-campus visitors from Atlanta and Decatur.

GLEE CLUB

The Agnes Scott Glee Club, composed primarily of voice majors, fulfills the musical needs of the campus. One of the outstanding services of the group this year was its contribution to the inaugural exercises. The Glee Club's Christmas program is eagerly awaited each year by the campus community and by all Atlanta. In cooperation with the Agnes Scott Dance Group, the club presented "Sleeping Beauty Waltz." Its spring concert featured sacred and secular music. The Glee Club and Campus Chorus are under the direction of Miss Roxie Hagopian.

BLACKFRIARS

Blackfriars, the Agnes Scott dramatic club, claims the distinction of being the oldest club on the campus. It was organized in 1915 under the leadership of Miss Frances K. Gooch and offers an opportunity for students to study acting and play production. Each year the group presents two full length plays in cooperation with the Emory Players. "The Stranger in the House" was an outstanding production of this fall. Blackfriars is now under the direction of Miss Roberta Winter, and membership is based on dramatic or technical try-outs.

POETRY CLUB

Poetry Club is open to all upper classmen through try-outs which are held semi-annually. The members meet monthly with Miss Emma May Laney to read and criticize their original poems. Some of the poems written by members have been published.

Anita Coyne, Helen Land, and Betty Phillips, members of Poetry Club, find an article of interest in the library display.

F O L I O

Folio offers membership to those freshmen with creative ability and the desire to write short stories, essays, plays, or poetry. Under the guidance of Miss Margret Trotter, the members read and criticize their own literary efforts. In the spring, Folio publishes an anthology containing the best manuscript of each member.

Helen Fokes, Secretary, and Ann Allred, President, examine Robert Frost's picture.

The primary aim of B. O. Z. is to encourage creative writing among Agnes Scott students. The members of the group exchange criticisms of their original short stories, essays and sketches during their monthly meetings in the home of Miss Janef Preston.

Caroline, talented president of BOZ, looks up a quick reference.

Aimez-vous le français? French Club members respond with an enthusiastic "Oui!". The aim of the club is to stimulate a deeper understanding of and appreciation for the French language, literature and customs. Throughout the year the programs are so planned as to give the club members a taste of French life, music, art and contemporary problems. Each year a carefully selected group of guest speakers contributes greatly to the understanding of these subjects.

SPANISH CLUB

Singing Spanish songs, studying and presenting Spanish plays, and listening to speakers from Spanish countries provide opportunities for members of Spanish Club to use their knowledge of the language.

Seeking to promote interest in the cultures of various Spanish-speaking countries, the club sponsors such projects as art exhibitions and displays from Spain and South America. The feature of the club's activities is the annual tea which is given during Pan American Week in honor of foreign students at Agnes Scott and neighboring colleges.

BIBLE CLUB

Bible Club, open to every student at Agnes Scott, is expressly for those interested in obtaining a fuller understanding and appreciation of the Bible. Among the club's services this year were aid to a foreign missionary and presentation of religious movies on the campus. Varied programs included reviews of religious books, discussions of religious topics, and biographical studies of Biblical characters.

GRANDDAUGHTERS CLUB

The Granddaughters Club is one of the oldest campus organizations and the only purely social one. It is composed of girls whose mothers or grandmothers attended Agnes Scott, and is frequently referred to as the "second generation" on campus. The projects of the club this year have been selling cook-book covers, compiling a cook-book for Murphy Candler, and aiding Social Committee in decorating the new recreation room.

WHO'S WHO

Ten members of the class of 1952 were nominated by their classmates for election to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Students are selected for the honor on the basis of scholarship, cooperation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, citizenship and service to the school, and promise of future usefulness. Agnes Scott is one of 600 American educational institutions participating in the program.

Athletic Association is designed to meet the need of recreation at Agnes Scott. In cooperation with the physical education department, AA presents a well-rounded sports program, which gives each student an opportunity to maintain physical fitness and to develop good sportsmanship. Class competition is held throughout the year in each of the major sports. Winning classes receive points toward the Sports Cup, which is presented each spring. Tournaments are held in the individual sports, the winners receiving class points and individual points toward a letter.

The organization sponsors a lost and found service, conducts Agnes Scott sweater sales, and provides bicycles for campus use. Special features of the association's year include the freshman picnic, the travel bureau, the faculty-varsity softball game, and the swimming pageant. The most impressive occasion of this year was the inauguration of Dr. Alston as President of the Agnes Scott Hockey College.

HOCKEY

Symbolic of the successful hockey season this year were brisk October afternoons, candied apples and class yells. The sophomores and juniors tied for the championship, receiving the Hockey Plaque in recognition of their outstanding playing. Miriam Runyon, a member of the senior team, was awarded the medal for good sportsmanship. The varsity, composed of players selected from all class teams, was announced in November. The success of the season may be attributed to the coaching of Miss Wilburn, the direction of school manager Anne Potts, and the hard playing and good sportsmanship displayed by the players.

Basketball, popular with players and spectators, gives that extra something to counteract the after-Christmas slump. It is the highlight of the winter sport season. Climaxing Dolphin Club's activities of the year was the colorful water ballet presented in the spring. Club manager for the season was Eloise Eubanks.

DANCE GROUP

The entire cast of "The Sleeping Beauty"

Campus interest in the ballet has become more and more apparent, thanks to the efforts of Dance Group, which seeks both to further interest in dancing and to provide entertainment. This year, Marilyn Vance and Miss Dozier conducted weekly classes in dancing. The highlight of winter quarter was "The Sleeping Beauty," presented by the combined efforts of the Glee Club and Dance Group. The original costumes and artistic interpretation of the dances were evidence of the talent possessed by the group, who did their own choreography.

A purple and white Agnes Scott letter is given to each girl who has amassed eight hundred athletic points, and a star for each additional four hundred points. Athletic points are won as a result of a wide participation in sports — from playing ping-pong to serving as president of Athletic Association. The girls who wear these letters are recognized as skilled athletes and good sportsmen.

Miss Mif Martin
Feature Editor, "The Silhouette"

Dear Miss Martin:

It has been a great pleasure to judge the beauty contest for your yearbook, "Silhouette". The photographs of the candidates, which you submitted, were all so attractive that I found it difficult to make a decision. It was also difficult to make my selection without seeing and talking to each contestant.

The winners were selected on the basis of personality, character, and intelligence, as well as for natural beauty. My choice was influenced, of course, by my great interest in and admiration for the Natural Girl.

If the contestants are ever in New York, it would be a pleasure to meet them. With best wishes to the contestants, to the staff of the "Silhouette" and to the students of Agnes Scott College, I am

Sincerely yours,

John Robert Powers

COMMUNITY DAY

Patti presents the coveted Black Cat to Margaret.

Our traditional Black Cat roamed the campus. Excitement was in the air . . . again it was time for the annual Black Cat festivities. Included in the activities were athletic events, a picnic supper on the hockey field, class songs, and skits. Community Day, an integral part of Agnes Scott, serves to unite the freshman class, stir up pep and spirit, and most of all, just give the Frosh a great big welcome.

JUNIOR JOINT

Cafe Parisien featured on the Left Bank at Agnes Scott presented us with an evening in Paris never to be forgotten. Such artists as Van Poe and Ciga walked by the Seine. French waiters, candlelit tables, and music for dancing provided by a jazz combo straight from Monmartre completed the setting. The Belle Femme for '52 was won by the sophomore class.

MAY DAY

All of Toyland turned out in full array to celebrate the birthday of Princess Linette, the dancing doll. Clowns, rag dolls, panda bears, the spinning top, Jack-in-the-box, and other toys furnished lively entertainment. Princess Linette's love for the White Chess Knight led to a battle between the forces of the Red and White Chess Courts. After a severe struggle, the White Court won, and the lovers were joyfully united amidst the merry dancing of the toys.

SENIOR OPERA

"Willie's Tale," produced by La Scotta Opera Co., under the direction of Kassie Simmons, presented intrigue and murder in the Villa de Telloverture. Sir John wooed Marsha, whose brother Jim fell victim to a murderer's contempt. Justice triumphed in the end, as Willie unfolded his tale and revealed the identity of the murderer to the surprise of the entire Villa.
