Alumnae Weekend

April 25-26, 2014

Celebrating
125
YEARS

INSPIRING WOMEN.
CHANGING THE WORLD.

AGNES
COLLEGE

Dear Alumnae Friends,

Reunion time is fast approaching! Can you believe that five years have passed since your last reunion? Make your plans now to join us for Alumnae Weekend, April 25-26, 2014.

Spring is a great time to come back to campus, enjoy the nostalgia of your college days and witness what Agnes Scott is today. This year we will be celebrating the college's 125th anniversary, so this Alumnae Weekend will be full of added special events. In addition to your class reunion activities, there will be a birthday luncheon on Saturday afternoon and celebratory dance party on Saturday night with the sounds of Livin' Large.

We hope that you can join us for our traditional afternoon of intellectual exploration called "Back to Class" hosted by Agnes Scott faculty and staff members—Charlotte Artese, associate professor of English; Mary Cain, associate professor of history; Susan Kidd '78, MAT '07, director of sustainability; and Kimberly Knight, director of digital strategy. Topics that alumnae may choose from include "2Bx3: Three Filmic Versions of the World's Most Famous Soliloquy," "The 'Woman's Sphere' and the Creation of Women's Colleges," "A Deeper Shade of Green Revisited" and "Where have all the kids gone? Social media beyond Facebook."

In honor of the college's 125th anniversary, we will have some new and exciting Agnes Scott merchandise for sale during Alumnae Weekend. We will also have some great photo opportunities for alumnae to have their picture taken with Agnes Scott herself.

We look forward to seeing you in April and celebrating with you!

Best wishes,
The Alumnae Relations Staff

2Bx3: Three Filmic Versions of the World's Most Famous Soliloquy

Charlotte Artese, associate professor of English

Mary Brown Bullock Science Center, Teasley Lecture Hall

How have movies tackled Hamlet's "To be, or not to be" speech? That is the question! We will look at and discuss clips from three film versions of Hamlet, one that sets the soliloquy on castle ramparts, one in front of a two-way mirror and one in the aisles of a video rental store.

posthumous*

The “Woman’s Sphere” and the Creation of Women’s Colleges

Mary Cain, associate professor of history and chair

Mary Brown Bullock Science Center, Room 210E

Nineteenth-century Americans held very defined ideas about the imagined needs and special strengths of women, ideas which led to the development of single-sex institutes for higher learning. This session will examine the notions of gender and womanhood that gave rise to women’s colleges.

A Deeper Shade of Green Revisited

Susan Kidd ’78, MAT ’07, director of sustainability

Mary Brown Bullock Science Center, Room 304E

Since 2007, Agnes Scott has been on the path to a more sustainable campus. The college has come a long way, and there are lots of projects on the horizon. Come hear about the work thus far and meet the Agnes Scott alumnae who are making it happen.

Where have all the kids gone? Social media beyond Facebook

Kimberly Knight, director of digital strategy

Mary Brown Bullock Science Center, Room 209W AB

What the heck is Instagram, how do I use a darn hashtag and where is my Pinboard? Come to this workshop with Agnes Scott’s very own director of digital strategy and you’ll be more confident and comfortable using the communication tools of your children and grandchildren.
