

AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE NEWS SERVICE
DECATUR, GEORGIA

Director: NANCY EDWARDS
Telephones: DRAKE 7-5642
DRAKE 3-2571

M + A - 5-2-61

A one-man show of twenty-four recent paintings by Ferdinand Warren, head of the Agnes Scott College art department, will be on exhibit at LaGrange College May 6-15.

The exhibition will be held in connection with LaGrange College's homecoming celebration.

Mr. Warren, widely known artist and National Academician, has won numerous awards and is represented in many permanent collections throughout the country.

#####

*Oglethorpe
Emory - at. 22*

Agnes Scott College has announced 11 faculty and administrative appointments for the 1961-62 academic session!

Lee B. Copple will join the faculty as associate professor of psychology. Dr. Copple graduated from the University of North Carolina, and holds M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in English from the University of Michigan, and the Ph.D. degree in psychology from Vanderbilt University. He has taught at Davidson College and at Vanderbilt, and was dean of men at Hanover College in Indiana.

Frances Harrold, who received the B.A. degree from Radcliffe College, the M.A. from the University of Wisconsin, and the Ph.D. from Bryn Mawr College, will come to Agnes Scott as assistant professor of history. Dr. Harrold has taught at Vassar College and at the University of Tennessee.

Eleanor N. Hutchens will be associate professor of English. Dr. Hutchens is an Agnes Scott graduate, and holds the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Pennsylvania. She is former director of alumnae affairs and publicity at Agnes Scott, and currently serves as national president of the College alumnae association. She is teaching now at the University (Center of Alabama) in Huntsville.

Visiting instructor in education will be Edithgene Sparks, who received the B.S. from Oglethorpe University, and the M.Ed. degree from Emory University.

agnes scott's new faculty and staff, p. 2---

Robert E.R. Nelson, B.A., M.A., University of Virginia, will join the faculty as instructor in mathematics. He has taught at Vanderbilt University and at the University of Virginia.

H. Richard Hensel received the B.M. and M.M. degrees from the American Conservatory of Music, and will come to Agnes Scott as assistant professor of music. Mr. Hensel has done further graduate work at the University of Illinois. He has taught at William Woods College, Shimer College, and the University of Illinois.

Betsy Hopkins Fancher, a graduate of Wesleyan College, and book editor for the Atlanta Constitution, will become Agnes Scott's director of publicity. Mrs. Fancher is former religious editor for the Constitution, and has worked in radio production in Atlanta.

Graduating seniors who have received administrative appointments for next fall are: Emily Pancake, Romney, W. Va., secretary in the alumnae office; Helen Everett, Rome, Ga.; manager of the College bookstore; Nancy Jane Higgins, Decatur, Ga., assistant to the librarian.

Aileen S. Hendley, Agnes Scott alumna, will also be an assistant to the librarian.

#